PROFESSIONAL PROGRAMS:

Winter ONLINE (January 1, 2018 - April 30, 2018):

Note: B – Winter Term

GRADEDUC 9721B-651 Educational Leadership Approaches and Ethical Concerns (Job Ref# 11272)

In this course students will learn about key leadership paradigms and theoretical approaches, with focus on influences of power and politics in organizations. Students will examine a selection of problems of practice using multiple leadership approaches and ethical frameworks, with the aim of demonstrating how different approaches shape leadership aims and practices. International and culturally responsive approaches to leadership will be considered.

The calendar description of courses offered in our Graduate Education Programs is available at http://www.edu.uwo.ca/graduate-education/index.html.

For more information about our Faculty, please visit: http://www.edu.uwo.ca.

The successful candidate will be responsible for all activities associated with the successful delivery of the course, including but not limited to: developing, preparing, and delivering the course; setting and marking examinations, assessing the academic work of students, and reporting grades.

Candidates must be willing to undertake training as required by the Employer including, but not limited to, training in respect of health and safety, harassment and discrimination, and legislated service standards.

Candidates must have a PhD or EdD in Education(al) Administration and/or Leadership. Additional required qualifications include active engagement in education research and other demonstrable expertise in the course content concerned, leadership experience in non-profit, for-profit, government, or other organizations (as relevant to the Community Leadership cohort), and documented success teaching at the graduate (preferably doctoral) level. Knowledge of educational leadership theory and research is required. A proven track record of excellence in innovative instruction for online adult learners is required (preferably in a cohort-based program). Experience in supervising applied education research and/or Organizational Improvement Plans, particularly at the doctoral level, is preferred. Successful instruction of this course in prior cohorts will be taken into consideration.
Candidates must apply using the Working at Western online application system available at http://www.uwo.ca/hr/working/staff/index.html. In submitting your application, candidates should attach a letter of application addressed to Dean Vicki Schwean specifying qualifications for the position and teaching interests, a curriculum vitae, and evidence of successful teaching, together with the names and contact information of qualified individuals who could be contacted about their teaching experience and ability.

In accordance with the Faculty Collective Agreement, consideration of applicants will include an assessment of previous performance, experience, and qualifications, including qualifications which go beyond the requirements for the position. Applicants should have fluent written and oral communication skills in English.

Please note offerings could be assigned to the workload of full-time faculty, to part-time faculty with seniority or preference rights in accordance with the Faculty Collective Agreement, or left unfilled based on operational/enrolment requirements. All positions are subject to budget approval.

For more information about this position, please contact Vangie Castillo at vangie.castillo@uwo.ca or (519) 661-2111 ext. 88653.

The closing date for applications October 20, 2017.

The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Western University is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, members of racialized groups/visible minorities, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities, persons of any sexual orientation, and persons of any gender identity or gender expression.

Accommodations are available for applicants with disabilities throughout the recruitment process. If you require accommodations for interviews or other meetings, please contact Vangie Castillo at vangie.castillo@uwo.ca and/or 519-661-2111 extension 88653.
