This course examines the economic, political and socio-cultural dimensions of globalization and their inter-relations with education. Students will be introduced to several perspectives for the study of globalization in comparative and international contexts. Students will develop a critical awareness of the implications of globalization for their own research, as well as different approaches for conducting research in and across international educational contexts.

The calendar description of courses offered in our Graduate Education Programs is available at https://www.edu.uwo.ca/graduate-education/index.html#program.

For more information about our Faculty, please visit: http://www.edu.uwo.ca.

For more information about this position, please contact Evangeline Castillo at vangie.castillo@uwo.ca or phone (519) 661-2111 ext. 88653.

The successful candidates will be responsible for all activities associated with the successful delivery of the course, including but not limited to: developing, preparing, and delivering the course; setting and marking examinations, assessing the academic work of students, and reporting grades.

Candidates must be willing to undertake training as required by the Employer including, but not limited to, training in respect of health and safety, harassment and discrimination, and legislated service standards.

Candidates must have a PhD in Education with significant knowledge of globalization, contemporary theories in education and educational change. Preference will be given to applicants who have relevant publications and demonstrated record of performance in teaching at the graduate level.
Candidates must apply using the Working at Western online application system available at http://www.uwo.ca/hr/working/staff/index.html. In submitting your application, candidates should include a letter of application addressed to the Appointments Committee specifying qualifications for the position and teaching interests, a curriculum vitae, and evidence of successful teaching, together with the names and contact information of qualified individuals who could be contacted about their teaching experience and ability.

In accordance with the Faculty Collective Agreement, consideration of applicants will include an assessment of previous performance, experience, and qualifications, including qualifications which go beyond the requirements for the position. Applicants should have fluent written and oral communication skills in English.

Course offerings could be assigned to the workload of full-time faculty, to part-time faculty with seniority or preference rights in accordance with the Faculty Collective Agreement or left unfilled based on operational/enrolment requirements. All positions are subject to budget approval.

The closing date for applications is: November 11, 2023.

The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Western University is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, members of racialized groups, Indigenous peoples, persons with disabilities, persons of any sexual orientation, and persons of any gender identity or gender expression.

Accommodations are available for applicants with disabilities throughout the recruitment process. If you require accommodations for interviews or other meetings, please contact Evangeline Castillo by email at vangie.castillo@uwo.ca or phone 519-661-2111 ext. 88653.

Recent Western graduates who are foreign nationals may be eligible to work on campus. Please refer to the Citizenship and Immigration Canada website under Post-Graduation Employment at http://www.cic.gc.ca/english/study/index.asp.
