Program Overview - Class of 2023

Syllabus Report

Special Education & Inclusion (EDUC 5016S)

Cook (007-008)

Course Description: The role of the classroom teacher in the education of students with exceptionalities will be explored. Topics include Ministry of Education Documents, the IEP and the IPRC process, assessment for instruction, universal design, differentiated instruction, and the use of technology. An asset-based approach and strategies for inclusive education are emphasized. 2 hours per week, second term, .25 credit.

Provincial legislation in Ontario requires that students identified as exceptional be provided with an education that is appropriate to their needs. Recently, this has become increasingly understood to mean providing a program within an inclusive setting with their peers.

In Ontario, approximately 80% of students identified with exceptionalities are taught in regular classrooms for at least 50% of each day. This movement to full inclusion means that every classroom teacher must be more knowledgeable, resourceful, and confident about working with all students to gain successful interpersonal and learning experiences in the classroom. This course will provide content related to working in the inclusive classroom.

Course Textbook:

Hutchinson, N. & Specht, J. (2019). Inclusion of exceptional learners in Canadian schools: A practical handbook for teachers (6th ed.). Toronto, Canada: Pearson.

Course Credits: 0.25

Number of Weeks: 9

Week 1: Introduction & Canadian Experience

GQ: How do we define Inclusion, Special Education, Exceptionalities & Individual Differences?

Recognize that there are various perspectives through which we view exceptionalities.

Describe some of the history of inclusion in Canada

Evaluate the issues surrounding the practice of inclusion

Describe the importance and benefits of inclusion

Learning Activities

Type	Name	Description
Case Study	Interactive Lecture/Case Study	In small groups students will complete an activity related to the case study of the current week's chapter, including responding to questions related to the case study. Students will explore and learn about inclusive educational practices related to the weekly topic(s) especially around specific exceptionalities, IEP's, UDL and Differentiated teaching strategies. Each week students will utilize preparation reading material from text, OWL and pre-class entry card templates.
Reading	Week 1 Materials & Readings	Read Chapter 1. Additional resources on OWL. Hutchinson, N. & Specht, J. (2019). Inclusion of exceptional learners in Canadian schools: A practical handbook for teachers (6th ed.). Toronto, Canada: Pearson.
Quiz	Week 1 Textbook Knowledge Check	Based on Chapter 1. For each incorrect answer in the quiz, students will be directed to the textbook section with the correct answer, and submit a rationale as to why this answer was a better choice.

Week 2: Teacher's Role in Inclusive Classroom

GQ: What role does the teacher have in the Individual Education Plan & Identification, Placement, Review Committee process?

Understand the "ADAPT" method of evaluating the fit between your students and the classroom.

Utilize some tools to organize your knowledge about your students (e.g., Inventories, Student & Class profiles).

Understand how to navigate through the Special Education Guide.

Understand Ontario's identification process and the Individual Education Plan

Summative Assessment	Due Wk 9: Final Assignment	In a team of 3 – consider the following two choices for the final assignment. Option 1 Step 1: team sources or creates a lesson plan. Step 2: team identifies 3 principles of UDL in the lesson plan, how it would support ALL students in the class. Step 3: team identifies, justifies where on the DI Implementation Continuum the lesson falls, team proposes changes that moves lesson plan farther along continuum. Step 4: For 1 -2 assigned IEP's, team describes the characteristics of exceptionality(ies), describe how the accommodations provided in the IEP may apply in the lesson, explain whether the learning expectations need to be modified, explain how the student is fully included in lesson. If applicable, the team identifies how assistive technology is used in the lesson UDL, DI or an accommodation), justifies a rationale for their choice. Team may choose response format (written, or video). (assignment sheet has more details). Option 2: Step 1: Team chooses to communicate to parents and principal in the format that best suits that communication (e.g. newsletter, short presentation, infographic), explaining how their classroom is inclusive (in both the learning, physical and social environments) by touching on principles of UDL and DI, and by providing specific examples. NB: For this assignment consider the principles of Community of Inquiry. Step 2: The team selects an 1-2 IEP's, drafts an email/alternative message format to the parents of that student and the school's principal outlining how that specific student will be included in the program (please include a sample lesson plan) by making reference to their specific strengths, needs, accommodations, modifications as outlined in the IEP's.

Assessment Activities

Type	Name	Description
Reading	Ongoing: Weekly Readings	Ongoing weekly readings throughout course.
Formative Assessment	Weekly Activities	An important component of the course is active participation. Each week the instructor will engage the class with different activities and will ask for work submission (either individual or in groups). Student participation in these activities will be recorded by the instructor. Feedback may take the form of a written or oral class debrief.

This course meets the following Course Outcomes:

Understand inclusive practice and apply it to the classroom

Understand the teacher's responsibilities in an inclusive classroom

Understand the characteristics, strengths, and needs of various exceptionalities, to support all students in the classroom

Examine, and apply various teaching strategies and tools that support all students including those with exceptionalities in the classroom (e.g. UDL, DI, ADAPT, profiles)

How to Protect Your Professional Integrity:

The Bachelor of Education is an intense and demanding program of professional preparation. Teacher Candidates are expected to demonstrate high levels of academic commitment and professional integrity that align with both Western University's Academic Rights and Responsibilities and the Professional Standards and Ethical Standards set by the Ontario College of Teachers. These expectations govern your time in class, in your Practicum, in your Alternative Field Experiences, and include the appropriate use of technology and social media.

The Teacher Education Office will only recommend teacher candidates for Ontario College of Teachers certification when candidates have demonstrated the knowledge of, and adherence to, the faculty policies throughout the two-year program.

To review the policies and practices that govern the Teacher Education program, including attendance, plagiarism, progression requirements, safe campus and more, visit: edu.uwo.ca/CSW/my-program/BEd/policies.html

Faculty of Education Pass/Fail Policy:

All courses and assignments in the Bachelor of Education are assessed as Pass/Fail.

Instructors will make the Success Criteria of the assignments clear, and refinements of the criteria may take place in class as a means of co-constructing details of the assignments in the first two weeks of a course. This will allow for differentiation of process, product and timeline depending upon student needs.

Success Criteria will

- Articulate what needs to occur to demonstrate learning outcomes for a course/assignment;
- Inform the instructional process so that teaching can be adapted to ensure students continue to remain on track to meet the criteria as needed and appropriate.
- Align with the assignments created to provide opportunities for students to demonstrate the knowledge, skills and abilities they are working toward;
- Establish clear descriptive language that allows Teacher Candidates to identify, clarify and apply the criteria to their work and to their engagement in peer feedback;
- Focus the feedback on progress toward meeting the overall and specific tasks/assignment goals for the course.

Participation:

Participation is essential to success in the Teacher Education program. As a professional school, you need to treat coming to class as showing up for work in the profession. If you are not in class, you cannot participate. Actively participating in discussions, peer reviews/feedback, group work and activities is integral to the development of your own learning and to the learning within your classroom community.

Given the varied experiences of Teacher Candidates in the program, you may engage with ideas/concepts or skills that are familiar or unfamiliar to you.

A Professional Teacher Candidate is one who:

- Arrives in class (virtual or online) on time, and prepared. This includes completing any readings, viewing assignments or tasks in advance of class as requested.
- Listens to others and contributes thoughtfully to discussions;
- Models respectful dialogue and openness to learn, monitors, self-assesses and reformulates one's prior beliefs and understandings in light of new information;
- Monitors and addresses their wellness, practices self-care, and seeks appropriate support when necessary.
